

Helping AGRM Members give clients a hand up.

We're committed to helping you maximize your mission.

At NextJob, we believe everyone who wants a job should have one, and that employment success starts with a competent and confident job search.

With that in mind, our charitable giving focuses on providing impactful job search training to those who can't afford it. Through our Job-for-Job program, we have partnered with AGRM to provide each requesting AGRM member mission with up to 500 free codes per year. By donating access to our cutting-edge, online Job Search Training system, we want to enhance the work you are already doing to give your clients a hand up into employment.

Job for Job Partners and Details

Benefit from a Comprehensive Curriculum

We've built comprehensive and easy-to-use online job search training system, covering topics from resume writing to networking to interviewing and retention of a new job. It includes a teach-show-do model of learning by building—directly in our system—a resume, target employer list, career interests, answers to common interview questions and many other job search tools. Throughout, job seekers learn from videos of employers and job seekers as well as useful examples in text and audio.

Save Staff & Volunteers Time & Avoid Burnout

When clients “do their homework,” they feel empowered and staff are freed to do more of what they do best.

- Speeds clients toward being self-sufficient
- Allows staff and volunteers to spend less time repeating information and more time where they're needed most — career counseling and overcoming hurdles
- Reinforces what staff teach for the coming weeks and months of job search activity
- Provides real-time reports to assess where and when a client is stuck

Maximize Your Mission

Our program promotes a successful job search by building on the relationship you already have with your clients. Through your relationships, clients can receive guidance, motivation and accountability—key elements in a successful job search.

- Helps clients get back on their feet more quickly
- Avoids long-term dependency on your resources

- Expands your geographical reach, without expanding your bricks and mortar
- Enhances, complements and expands the impact of the services you are already providing
- Increases client accountability to drive better results and inspire donors
- Provides a high quality and scalable solution

Multimedia Training

Empower Clients

The curriculum empowers clients with excellent resources and leverages the guidance of your staff, who can spend more time guiding, motivating and helping clients stay focused on their goals.

Track Goals and Measure Outcomes

The NextJob program also provides measurable outcomes throughout the training to give clients goals they can achieve, such as resume completion, personality assessment and training, development of a marketing plan, and completion of interview training. Your staff can review real-time reports of how clients are progressing:

- Know exactly when a client completes a training module and how long it took to complete
- Pinpoint where clients are struggling to make your staff assistance efficient, just-in-time and targeted
