

Together

Bill Byrne/Terra Johnston ASCAP

There's a place deep in my heart
That was empty for so many years
And no matter how hard, how hard I tried
I just filled it with troubles and fears

I was lost and weary
Trying to find my way
I could not see tomorrow
Couldn't see beyond today

Living in the past
Held prisoner by my shame
Losing all my hope
So tired of playing this game

And then one day someone reached out a hand
They showed me there was hope for me
And I know in my heart, I've got a new start
Filled with love and possibilities

Together we can change a life
One day at a time
Together we can touch a heart
When we let God's love and mercy shine !
Whenever, we believe
No mountain is too high
With God at the center
We can do it together
Together we can change a life

Whoa Whoas
Together we can do it's possible
Whoa Whoa
We can change a life

Now I have a new life
His love has set me free
I'm holding my head high

I can be who I wanna be
I'm learning how to win
So I can dream again
Standing on my own
But I know I'm not alone

Because one day someone reached out to me
And helped me find another way
And I know in my heart, I've got a new start
Filled with love and possibilities

Together we can change a life
One day at a time
Together we can touch a heart
When we let God's love and mercy shine !
Whenever, we believe
No mountain is too high
With God at the center
We can do it together
Together we can change a life

Together
Change
Together
We can change

Together
Change
Together
Change a life

Together
Change
Together

Whenever, we believe
No mountain is too high
With God at the center
We can do it together
Together we can change a life

Verse 1

Sometimes I feel so lost my life just slips away

When I look into the mirror I don't know what to say

When I'm thinking all is turning grey, you shine your light in a special way

Chorus

Thank you for being my friend, for standing by me and lending a hand

Good times and bad times too, I can always count on you

Don't matter what I'm going through, in my heart I know you'll be my friend

Verse 2

Looking back on my life and the choices I have made

I see the heartache and the price that I have paid

I thought my every bridge was burned

But you gave me somewhere I could turn

Chorus

Thank you for being my friend, for standing by me and lending a hand

Good times and bad times too, I can always count on you

Don't matter what I'm going through, in my heart I know you'll be my friend

Bridge

Cause living, lovin, in this life is all we really need

Take my hand and hold on tight cause love will set me, love will set me free

Chorus

Thank you for being my friend, for standing by me and lending a hand

Good times and bad times too, I can always count on you

Don't matter what I'm going through, in my heart I know you'll be my friend

Love Is

William Byrne, Angela Hunt ASCAP

She says love is easy, he says love is blind
Like a story in a romance novel with a happy ending all the time

Dreams are more than emotions
A wish deeper than words
Two hearts longing for someone to love, love in this lonely world

She was barely 19, he was 23
He met her at the hometown dance and he knew right then it was meant to be

He promised the moon and stars as he held her tight in her wedding gown
He prayed with all his heart that he wouldn't let her down

Love is more than emotion, love is deeper than words
Two hearts searching for something to say, late in the night
But love, love is believing in peace, patience and hope
We want love to be easy but love is hard to give, love is

He was young and reckless, she was still naïve
She wanted a love forever and she knew right then it was meant to be

She promised the moon and stars as he held her tight in her wedding gown
She prayed with all her heart that she wouldn't let him down

Love is more than emotion, love is deeper than words
Two hearts searching for something to say, late in the night
But love, love is believing in peace patience and hope
We want love to be easy but love is hard to give, love is

Love is more than emotion

Love is deeper than words

Two hearts searching for something

Love is more than, love is more than

She says love is patient, he says love is kind

Don't Look Away
William Byrne, Cami Miller ASCAP

You promised me you'd always love me, you needed me I needed you
But all the dreams we shared, just aren't coming true

You live your life inside a bottle, trying to hide from the pain
I'd shut my eyes and hide from the shame

Cause all the things you'd said and done can't be washed away
There's nothing good that I can see

Don't look away, I'm all alone
I need a hand to hold and a love to see me through
Some people say that I can't change, cause I'm wasting my life chasing empty dreams

When desperation closes in and I can't find my place
All I ask is please don't look away

All alone I'm tired and hungry, I live my life from place to place
And when they stop and stare, they don't see my face

Where's the peace, where's the mercy, a little hope a little grace
Cause we're all living in such a desperate place

In the middle of the night, when there's no where left to turn
There's nothing left inside of me

Don't look away, I'm all alone
I need a hand to hold and a love to see me through
Some people say that I can't change, cause I'm wasting my life chasing empty dreams

Carelessly I fell into a world of my mistakes, trapped inside a past that still haunts me
I want to start again, I need a loving hand to see me through, to see me through

Don't look away, I'm all alone
And I need a hand to hold and a love to get me through Don't look away, I'm all alone but I know in my heart, oh I know love can see me through

When desperation closes in and I can't find my place
All I ask is please don't look away hey hey

Believe

William Byrne ASCAP, Michelle McCammond BMI

When the weight of the whole world comes crashing down

And your future is blinded by fears and doubts

When you look into the mirror do you like who you see ?

Don't let those things you've done hang around and hold you down

Believe Believe, in the power of a miracle

Believe Believe, that hope can change your life

If faith can move mountains, what else can it do, Believe Believe, will you ?

When memories come haunting and you can't let them go

And tomorrow is clouded by all you know

When they tell you you're no good, who will you believe ?

Don't let their foolish lies hang around and hold you down

Believe Believe, in the power of a miracle

Believe Believe, that hope can change your life

If faith can move mountains, what else can it do, Believe Believe, I do.....

Can you imagine that there's something more

In this world of constant struggle

Love will find you and always remind you

There is hope, for your life, for your life

Believe Believe, in the power of a miracle

Believe Believe, that hope can change your life

If faith can move mountains, what else can it do, Believe Believe, Believe Believe, will you..... ?
